THREE BANDISS HANGED AT CHICAGO

Niedermeier Refused to Stand and Was Hanged Sitting.

The Other Two Professed Religion—
Had Killed Many Men in Their Time.

TWO OF THEM DIED GAME

Chicago, Ill., April 22.—Peter Niedermeier, Harvey Van Dine and Gustav Marx, the car burn bandits, paid the penalty of many crimes on the gallows today. Niedermeier refused to the last to accept religious consolation, the others accepted religion and were resigned to their fate.

Niedermeier was the first executed. He was carried to the gallows, and refusing to stand was placed in a chair, which fell with him when the drop fell at 10:35. Physicians said his neck was broken but it was several minutes before he was pronounced dead.

Marx came next and walked unaided. The drop fell at 11:17. The body fell heavily and the convulsions lasted two minutes. Death ensued in six minutes. Marx did not speak on the gallows, and carried the cross before him. Physicians expressed the opinion that his neck was broken.

Van Dine was the last of the "automobile trio," who faced death. He walked to the scaffold, stood unaided and the drop fell at 11:55.

Death was almost instantaneous, his neck being broken. Marx and Van Dine took an affectionate leave of each other before the former left his cell. Both prayed continuously during their walk to the scaffold and while the noose was being adjusted.

Eight murders were committed by the desperadoes, all of whom were about 21 years old. Niedermeier, the leader of the gang, before his execution, confessed to having killed five additional men whose names he did not know. The crimes are characterized by an entire absence of any moral sense.

CRIMES OF THE HANDITS.

July 9—Otto Haeber killed in saloon.

August 1—Adolph Jensen and B. C. La Gross killed in saloon.

August 30—Frank W. Stuart and James H. Johnson killed in the car barn.

November 20—Detective John Quinn killed by Marx.

November 27—J. L. Soren, a brakeman, killed at Liverpool, Ind. and Detective John F. Driscoll shot and mortally wounded in the fight near Indiana dngout.

Van Dine, Niedermeier and Marx were tried for the murder of Frank Stewart at the Chicago city railroad car barn. James H. Johnson also was killed in the raid on the barns and two persons were wounded.

The car barn robbery, by which the three bandits secured $2,240, was long and deliberately planned. Stewart was shot without warning as he sat at his desk. Johnson was killed as he arose from a bench where he had been sleeping. The wounded men were left for dead and the bandits escaped without leaving a clue.

The capture of the trio was due to the boastfulness of Marx, who when under the influence of liquor, displayed a magazine revolver. When located in a north side saloon, November 20, by Detectives Quinn and Blair, Marx shot and killed Quinn and attempted to shoot Blair. Marx then made a full confession, implicating Van Dine, Niedermeier and Roekki. All three were captured November 27, after a desperate battle in the Indiana sand dunes, where they killed two more men.

Emil Roekki, who was with the bandits in the dngout, and who participated in many of their crimes, was tried separately.

Supt. A. H. Egan and Roadmaster F. L. Thompson, of the Louisville division of the I. O., were in the city today on business.

PRETTY PRISONER UNDER ARREST

Mrs. Jessie Lynn Charged With Grand Larceny.

Is Alleged to Have Taken Diamond
Brooch and Money at Mrs.
Rook's.

THE CASE NOT YET TRIED

Mrs. Jessie Lynn, an attractive young woman, is under arrest here charged with having stolen a $75 diamond brooch and $1.50 in cash from Mrs. Wilmoth Rook, who has a boarding house at Fifth and Clark streets, and $10 in cash from the trunk of Mr. B. J. Adler, a boarder at Mrs. Rook's house.

The suspect came to the boarding house Thursday a week ago with her husband, who said he traveled for a big New York house. Nothing was learned about them except when the woman once remarked she had been playing the races at Memphis just before she came here. Her husband left the city Thursday night and she remained until yesterday when she said she was going to Wartrace, Tenn., to meet her husband who had written he was ill. Mrs. Rook missed the diamond brooch and money Monday, and Thursday the $10 was missed from Mr. Adler's trunk. She suspected the woman but did not do anything until she saw the suspect preparing to leave and then notified the police of the theft and the arrest followed.

Mrs. Rook stated this morning that the Lynn woman was seen go into her desk, where the $1.50 was stolen, and her pocketbook where the money was kept was heard to click as if being closed. The brooch was taken from Mrs. Rook's room but no one saw her there. Mrs. Rook is holding the woman's belongings and will have them searched this afternoon by the police.

The case was docketed this morning in police court, but not tried. The woman is being held, pending an investigation and will probably be given a hearing tomorrow morning.

Mrs. Lynn, the prisoner, was seen at the city hall this morning and denied taking the brooch or money and stated she had been thoroughly searched by Mrs. Rook and her trunk and belongings had been thoroughly searched by Chief Collins and Mrs. Rook, and nothing was found.

She stated that her home was about five miles out of Louisville and the reason she was leaving town was to go to her husband who was seriously ill. Originally she intended to remain here until June 14 when she would join her husband in St. Louis after he had worked his territory. He sells polish for use on fire department apparatus.

Attorney J. Wheeler Campbell was secured by Mrs. Lynn and an attempt is being made to have Mrs. Rook dismiss the prosecution. Mrs. Lynn did not desire any publicity but now that the matter has come to such a serious point, stated she would like to make a statement and place herself in the right light. She says the desk Mrs. Rook keeps in the hall is for the use of the boarders and is used by them. Further that she had been in the desk but once and this was to get a book and that other boarders had been using it more than she had. She says she never once saw the brooch and did not know whether Mrs. Rook had a private room or not.

Mrs. Rook refused to let the prosecution drop and this afternoon Mrs. Lynn was placed under guard, Officer Farrow being selected to guard her, and will be tried tomorrow. Her case is puzzling the police while some do not believe her guilty, there is considerable circumstantial evidence against her.

RUSSIANS DRIVEN BACK WITH LOSS

Hundreds Drowned in Their Mad Flight on the Yalu.

Mongre News of a Land Battle—Alex-leff's Resignation Not Accepted Yet.

PORT ARTHUR IS BLOCKADED

London, April 22.—A special dispatch to the Times from New Ohwang states that a messenger from the Yalu reports Japanese outposts near the Russian entrenchments, with large bodies five miles distant. The Russians are fleeing north across the river in overcrowded boats, losing hundreds by drowning.

CORRESPONDENTS SILENCED.

London, April 22.—The Times states that newspaper correspondents accredited to the Russian forces, who left for Mukden, had to bind themselves not to divulge any news respecting the results of managements with the enemy or the losses suffered by Russians.

FIRE AT NAVY YARD.

St. Petersburg, April 22.—Fire at the Nevsky Naval ship building yards Friday destroyed a number of important plans.

RESIGNATION NOT ACCEPTED.

Brelin, April 22.—Morgan repeats the report that Admiral Alexieff the Russian viceroy in the far east has tendered his resignation to the czar. The paper gives as a reason for the resignation the fact that General Kuropatkin has mercilessly criticised Alexieff's preparations for a campaign. The paper says the czar has not accepted the resignation.

LAND ENGAGEMENTS.

Seoul, April 22.—Strong rumors are current here of a land engagement near the mouth of the Yalu, the result of which is unknown.

Russian scouts reached Puk Ching, a hundred miles north of Won Son, evidently with the idea of making a demonstration against the latter place, hoping to draw the Japanese force in that direction, but a superior Japanese force met the Russians and caused them to retire.

Both armies are using the same tactics in eastern as on western Korean coast.

PORT ARTHUR DOOMED.

Tokio, April 22.—Port Arthur is now undoubtedly effectively blocked, and events are now culminating around that doomed fortress.

Japanese soldiers at Seoul say they believe Port Arthur has fallen, but no official report has been received. Only sixty Russian cavalry reached Song Ching. The appearance of the Russians in that region is of no consequence to the Japanese, who seem purposely to ignore the northeastern mountainous district.

The Russian cavalry, after burning Japanese houses at Song Ching, occupying the Korean telegraph office and causing trouble among the natives by their demands for provisions, proceeded to Puk Ching, about 65 miles to the south.

INSURANCE MEN MUST NOW ANSWER

Questions Propounded by State
Commissioner.

He Intends to Stop Rebating—Rob-
ard's Company's Plant
Is Sold.

AND OTHER KENTUCKY NEWS

Frankfort, Ky., April 22.—State Insurance Commissioner Prewitt has received intimation of violations of the anti-rebate laws by Kentucky agents of life insurance companies, notwithstanding his announced determination to revoke the license of such companies, and is preparing to make a campaign against such practices and to take vigorous steps. He this morning sent to each of the 1,500 agents in Kentucky a list of questions to be answered and sworn to by the agents, who are notified that unless they respond on or before May 15 next their license to do business will be suspended or revoked.

The power of the commissioner in this matter is absolute. The questions are, if the agent has rebated by any process or scheme since January 1 last when Commissioner Prewitt gave his first warning to the rebaters.

One of the schemes said to have been put in operation by the agents who have been practicing rebating since January last has been to get the business in the state and have it written at Jeffersonville or New Albany, in Indiana, or Cincinnati, they paying the expenses of the persons to be examined and given a rebate to get the business. This scheme is covered in the questions asked by the Insurance commissioner.

THE STREET PAVING QUESTION NOW UP

Members of the Public Board
Take Charge.

An Erroneous Idea Prevails in Some Quarters That Petitions Are Necessary Before Paving.

THE LAW IS VERY PLAIN

The Boards of Public Works before recommending the streets to be paved out of the bond issue, will settle an important question on which some of the members seem to have gone wrong. One or two members of the board are under the impression it seems, that the second class charter requires a petition of two thirds of the property owners along any street, before it can be re-constructed, which does not appear to be borne out by the law itself.

Section 22 of the charter provides the following: "The general council, may, by ordinance, provide for the construction or re-construction of the streets, alleys, and other public ways and sidewalks, or parts thereof of the city, upon the petition of the owners of a majority of the front or abutting feet of real estate abutting on such improvements, or without a petition, by a vote of two thirds of the members-elect of each board of the general council. But when such original construction is to be made with brick, granite, asphalt, concrete or other improved material or paving, it shall be made only upon the petition of the owner or owners of at least two thirds of the front or abutting feet of real estate abutting on such improvements. Such original construction of public ways shall be made at the exclusive cost of the owners of the real estate abutting on such improvements and such reconstruction of such ways shall be made one-half at the cost of the owners of the real estate abutting on such improvements, and the other half at the cost of the city." etc.

It is very plain from the above what the difference is between the original construction, and re-construction, of the streets. The opening of West Jefferson street will be original construction, and requires a petition of two thirds of the property owners, and the property owners have to pay the entire cost, and can have the material of anything they want, from gravel to asphalt.

The paving of the streets already constructed, however, which will be all those paved from the bond issue, is re-construction, as evidenced by the fact that the city is going to pay half the costs, and no petition from anyone is necessary. In fact, if it were not reconstruction, the city couldn't issue bonds for it, all original construction being paid for by the property owners.

A member of the Board of Public works said today that he had been informed that the law made it necessary to have petitions from two thirds of the property owners on any street before it can be ordered paved, and this impression seems to be general in some quarters. It seems evident, however, from the above that nothing of the kind is intended. In fact, if that were the law it would in many cases in Paducah be impossible to have any street paved, for at least some of the property owners would prefer to be saved their share of the costs and have the old kind of streets.

The Board of Public Works it is stated today, will at once have this question settled to its satisfaction, and then set about selecting the streets to be paved.

SCHOOL DISMISSED

So the Parasites May All Be Killed.

The Pests Seem to Have Increased—
Expert Fumigator Here Today.

It has been practically settled that the parasites discovered in the High school building, are common bed bugs and immediate steps to exterminate them have been taken.

The parasites in the schools were fought at first with sulphur, but this did little good as they began to crawl about again the next day. An expert fumigator arrived here this morning and after a conference with Dr. J. R. Coleman, president of the board of education, and Secretary Frank May and Superintendent C. M. Leib, was instructed to proceed with his work of fumigation. He guarantees that he will kill all the bugs or will ask no pay.

The question of where the bugs came from has been settled also. The bugs are said to have been brought into the building by bats and chimney swallows and got their start in the walls. When the panels of the wood work in the third story are struck, the bugs run up the wall and yesterday one boy had a bottle half filled with them. They seem to be on the increase instead of the decrease and this afternoon school was dismissed and the building turned over to the fumigator. The teachers' meeting was not held at the High school but at the Longfellow building and it is assured that by Monday all of the parasites will be killed and the building entirely riden of them.

J. R. ROBERTS, 325 BROADWAY

LIVED THREE DAYS WITH BROKEN BACK

Max Garrett, of Paducah, Fell From 100 Foot Trestle.

He Assisted Companions to Draw Him to the Trestle Again.

DETAILS OF DEATH RECEIVED

Relatives of Mr. Maxwell Garrett, the painter who was killed in Beumont, Tex., several months ago, have ordered the remains brought here and it is presumed they will arrive within the next few days.

Full details of the accident which caused Garrett's death were not received until yesterday when Mr. Robert McCune, the sign writer, received a letter from friends in Beumont telling of the remarkable vitality of Garrett, and how he fought against death for three days and finally succumbed from injuries which ordinarily would have proven fatal instantly.

Garrett and two companions were riding on a freight train and Garrett had started to shove one of the men how to get off the train. It was night and the train was passing over a five mile trestle, one hundred feet high and Garrett lost his balance falling to the ground below. He broke his back but did not lose consciousness. His companions went to town, secured a hand car and rope and with the aid of several railroad men pulled Garrett up and took him to a hospital. Garrett, although lying with a broken back, tied the rope about his waist and held on while his companions, one hundred feet above, pulled him up.

He never lost consciousness until he was on top of the trestle again and when taken to the hospital was placed in a plaster cast, but died three days later. The accident happened on the night of October 10 and he died on the night of the 13th.

His companions did not know his name, it seems, and could not notify his relatives of the sad death, and it was only by chance that it was learned here.

DIED IN VIRGINIA

YOUNG MAN WHO LIVED IN PADUCAH FOR SEVERAL MONTHS DIES.

Mr. Bayo Davanport, of Virginia, a nephew of Mrs. John George, of South Fourth street, died a few days ago at his home in Virginia. He was about 25 years old, and had many friends in Paducah, having been employed in the pumping station here of the water company in the winter of 1902. His death came as a great surprise to his relatives in Paducah.

Mrs. P. L. Strickland is visiting in Central City.

NO STEMMING.

IMPERIAL COMPANY WAITING FOR INSTRUCTIONS FROM ENGLAND.

The Imperial Tobacco Company, which has a factory at Fifth and Clay streets, has stopped stemming tobacco temporarily on account of a proposed tax pending in the British parliament on strips. The local factory, which is under the management of Mr. Clarence Martin, has been buying a great deal of tobacco lately, and is about the only concern that has bought to any extent in this section.

No more tobacco, as stated, will be stemmed until the agents in England are heard from. It will be prized in bundles with the stems to avoid payment of the new tax on strips, and it is probable that if the bill passes, all tobacco sent to Great Britain from this country will be sent with stems.

A TESTIMONIAL.

YARDMASTER McMAHON TO BE GIVEN A BANQUET.

Mr. McMahon is generally popular with the men here and has been undoubtedly one of the best yardmasters ever in authority here.

TWO PLAYERS HAVE JUMPED THE GAME

Bateman and Nippert Go to Ohio to Play.

Manager Ray Says It Will Not Hurt the Paducah Team, However.

CLUB LEAVES FOR EVANSVILLE

Nippert, catcher, and Bateman, third baseman, have deserted the Paducah K. I. T. league team, and have gone to Coshocton, O., to work with an independent team this season.

Nippert and Bateman have been playing together for several years and are fast players. They were secured here by hard work on the part of Manager Ray and yesterday when he learned they both intended abandoning the team, asked them why they were doing it.

The team will not be crippled by the departure of these two players, however. Land will do the catching and Violet will play first base. Brady will go to left field and Girard will play third base. Freeman will play in right field some and pitchers will be worked not only in the box but in the field also. Manager Ray says that Paducah will not be crippled in her team and that just as fast ball can be played with the present team.

The team left this afternoon for Evansville on the Fowler and will tomorrow play the first game. Sunday and Monday games will be played and after these three have been played the team will return home. Manager Ray intends to bring home several scalps.

According to the local management the absconding players stated that they had been urged to leave Paducah and join by one of the league officers, and the matter will be taken up at once. Their reason for leaving was that they had been told the Paducah association was uncertain financially. They cannot be prevented from playing ball because of their jumping the team, however, as they have gone to an independent club.

The following additional players under contract to Cairo were wired tickets with instructions to report on the 23d. Both are pitchers, the first being recommended by Rutledge as a wonder. Charles Vitroff, of Evansville, and H. D. Danbs, of St. Louis.

There will be four excursions run into Cairo Sunday, May 1, on account of the baseball game. One each from Paducah, Poplar Bluff, Jonesboro, Ark., and Murphysboro.

A telegram was received in Cairo from Perry Wilder and Lou Rutledge stating that they had received their tickets and would report at Cairo by Saturday.

Not Fatal.

No Matter What Doctors Say—We Know That Heart Trouble in Many Cases Can Be Cured.

There are seven main features of heart disease, viz.: (1) Weakness or Debility; (2) Rheumatism or Neuralgia; (3) Valvular Disorder; (4) Dilation; (5) Enlargement; (6) Fatty Degeneration; (7) Dropsy.

Documentary evidence will prove thousands of so-called "incurables" have been absolutely cured by Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure.

Patients often have no idea their disease is heart trouble, but ascribe it to indigestion, liver complaint, etc. Here are some of the symptoms: Shortness of breath after exercise; Smothering Spells; Pain in Chest, Left Shoulder and arm. Discomfort in lying on one side. Fainting Spells. Nervous Cough. Swelling of Feet and Ankles. Paleness of Face and Lips. Palpitation. Nightmare. Irregular Pulse.

"I have great faith in Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, and speak of its merits whenever opportunity presents. ## MONEY-TO-TIDE OVER

Mayor Recommends Prompt Action in Bond Issue Matter.

Council's Action Ratified in a Large Number of Things Last Night.

MEETING OF THE ALDERMEN

Alterman Singleton was the only member absent when the board of aldermen held its regular session last night. Much of the work transacted was a ratification of the action of the councilmanic board in various things. The mayor reported that city money had become exhausted and the city would have to get money to run until the next taxes come in, which will be after June 1. The finance committee was authorized to borrow money. There was yesterday only about $2,200 on hand while last night's bills alone amounted to $4,200. The city will now have to borrow until after June 1.

The board of aldermen declined to officially recognize the Lawrence's visit, or to make any arrangement for any kind of a reception.

The matter of having the city hall roof repaired was referred to the public improvement committee. The petition of the First Baptist church to be allowed to pay its assessment for street paving on the ten year plan was referred; City Solicitor Ed Puryear was instructed to look after the city's interest in the suit to force a settlement of the estate of the late J. M. Gilbert.

The bid of Aoree & Niemann for building the new fire station for $3,642 was ratified and the bond accepted.

The signed statement made by the city and the street contractor regarding their dispute about placing concrete between the street car ties on the streets being paved, was filed. It is simply a denial by the contractor that he has to do the work under the contract, and an assertion by the city that he is required to do it without extra pay.

The mayor recommended that early action be taken in floating the $200,000 in bonds the court of appeals has just decided are valid.

The proposition of White & Co., New York, to take up the $25,000 shop bonds at 4 1/2 per cent was accepted. Miscellaneous bills amounting to $4,200 were allowed.

The following ordinances asked by the board of public works were given second passage: One prohibiting the sweeping of trash or other filth or refuse on pavements, streets or alleys; for preventing the free flow of water in any gutter; for failing to repair and keep repaired sidewalks inside the city of Paducah; prohibiting anyone letting fall from a wagon or other vehicle any kind of offal or trash onto the streets, etc., and for depositing trash of any description on public grounds. The ordinance increasing the health officer's salary from $250 to $600 a year was given first passage.

It was ordered that the water mains be extended between Clark and Jackson on South 12th.

The matter of placing a new roof on Central fire station was referred. The application of Frank Waggoner for a coffee house license at 1810 Bridge street was referred back to the license committee, a protest accompanying the application.

J. R. Gray's prayer for relief from overassessment was referred.

A Denker's saloon license was transferred from 1133 Harrison to 12th and Harrison; W. P. Carter's license at Ninth and Trible was transferred to George Myrick.

Twenty-five dollars was ordered refunded the Ferguson-Palmer company for license paid and not required of them.

The $1,800 compromise in the $10,000 bond suit against the city was ratified.

Several cemetery deeds were ratified, and the bond of Dr. Garbar, milk and meat inspector, was ratified.

The following matters were referred to the board of public works: Request for a light at the end of Bridge street for a watering trough at 13th and Tennessee street; muller of the city's repairing main pipes near Tyler, Ky.

The matter of having storm water sewerage built on Broadway between Fifth and Sixth was referred to the board of public works with power to

The improvement of the alley between 10th, 11th, Jones and Norton streets was ordered.

In regard to the floating of the bonds just legalized by the court of appeals, the matter was referred to the joint finance committee, the mayor, solicitor and chairman of the two boards, and will be taken up at once it is understood.

President Reed said that he thought the storm water sewerage should be put down at once, and City Engineer Washington concurred in the opinion, saying that it should be done six months or longer before the street paving is done, in order that the ground might settle. The first thing to do, however, is to decide what streets are going to be paved, and this was left to the board of public works.

CONTRACT TO GO TO CARBON-DALE NEXT TUESDAY—DEAN'S BAND GOES.

All arrangements for the big Odd Fellows' inter-state meeting at Carbondale, Ill., on the 26, have been employed by the local lodges, and Paducah will be well represented, the delegation being headed by Dean's band of eighteen pieces.

The contract for the music was closed today and if the local band captures the prize of $100 for the best band, a division will be made with the local lodges. Prof. Dean has downed all hands at these inter-state meetings for years and anticipates no trouble in repeating his former victories.

The train carrying the local delegation will leave the union depot on the morning of the 26th at 6:45 o'clock and will return that night late. Rites have been made by the railroad company and it is likely over two hundred excursionists will be taken out of the city.

CARNIVAL NEWS.

MEETING OF THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE THIS EVENING.

A meeting of the executive committee of the Carnival association will be held this evening. It is likely that from now on preparations for the spring show will be lively. A promoter is expected Monday for the Mundy company, and Monday morning Mr. Will Utterback will leave for the I. C. road to put out paper. Other men will go out on other roads for the purpose of having the affair well advertised.

The banners and streamers are being painted and will probably be ready to put on the boats and across streets by Monday.

The badges for the committee are also on the way here and will be distributed shortly. The booth committee will start out today to try to wind up its work.

GOOD SPIRITS.

Good spirits don't all come from Kentucky. Their main source is the liver—and all the fine spirits ever made in the Blue Grass state could not remedy a bad liver or the bad effects it produces. You can't have good spirits and a bad liver at the same time. Your liver must be in fine condition if you would feel buoyant, happy and hopeful, bright of eye, light of step, vigorous and successful in your pursuits. You can put your liver in fine condition by using Green's August Flower—the greatest of all medicines for the liver and stomach and a certain cure for dyspepsia or indigestion. It has been a favorite household remedy for over 35 years. August Flower will make your liver healthy and active and thus insure you a liberal supply of "good spirits." Glass Bennett, Colored, Died Here From Injuries.

ACCIDENT HERE IN SHOPS

Glass Bennett, colored, was struck by an I. C. train at Princeton yesterday afternoon about 1 o'clock and sustained fatal injuries, dying six hours later.

Bennett was driving in a wagon and in attempting to cross ahead of a train was struck. He was thrown out, a leg and arm broken, seven ribs fractured, his skull fractured and back hurt, and he never regained consciousness. The negro was brought to the hospital at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon and before any treatment could be rendered expired. The remains were taken to Nance & Spaulding's, and will be held for instructions from Princeton relative to disposing of the body.

Mr. Eugene White, a machine operator employed in the local I. C. shops, met with a serious accident yesterday in the woodworking shops.

He was working with a small planing machine when he got his left hand in the blades. The flesh from the base of the little finger to the wrist was taken off and the bone laid bare. The accident occurred so quick that White could not realize what had happened. He was taken to the railroad hospital where the injury was dressed.

STOLE COINS

POSTOFFICE INSPECTOR INVESTIGATING ALLEGED THEFT OF WORLDS' FAIR COINS.

De Soto, Mo., April 22—Postoffice Inspector Bunson created a sensation in De Soto today when he began to investigate the cause of the selling of numerous pieces of world's fair souvenir gold coins here at less than the regular price. He found 23 of them in the hands of parties, merchants, business men and clerks, who had purchased them at prices from $1 to $2 the regular price being $3. It seems that in January of this year in a wreck that occurred on the Illinois Central below East St. Louis a mail car was badly wrecked and burned, and among the registered mail was a package containing about 175 pieces of the souvenir dollars that were mailed to a place in Louisiana. The package was not recovered. Enough has been discovered to indicate that the souvenir coins were sent here by some one who had either stolen them or found them at the time of the wreck. Arrests will soon be made, as the clues found point almost direct to the parties.

PADUCAH'S LAWSUITS.

It appears to be about time for the city of Paducah to retire from the law business—or rather to resolve to take nothing else into the courts. When did the city ever win a suit? Yesterday the court of appeals decided another case against the taxpayers. The city must now pay for printing a list of tax bills that was never printed, because the city officials whose duty it is to simply make or enforce the laws, try to usurp the prerogative of others and interpret them, and refused to turn over the list to the public printer to print. The list was not printed, but the printer demanded it and was entitled to it, and the city refused to produce. The amount that will have to be paid over without any value being received by the city will be simply one of the many little costs of putting men in office who do not know their business.

When the question first came up the city solicitor, Attorney J. M. Worren, said to the mayor and other city officials that the charter provision was clear, that the tax lists had to be printed, and that the public printer was entitled to print them, and if not permitted to do it, the city would have to pay for it just the same. He said the law might not be a good one, but it was a legislative act just the same, and the local boards could not change it, and must conform to it until it was repealed. The local law-makers in the exuberance of their stupidity, decided that they knew more law than the city solicitor, and refused the list. Now the city must pay the bill just the same. The general council even went a step farther and actually passed an ordinance to repeal a charter provision and publish the tax list only once! There appears to be little hope for the poor taxpayers when such able lawyers get charge of the machinery of government. Only a few days ago the city had to pay $1800 because a council a few years ago didn't happen to know as much as it thought it did. It is apparently a good time for the city to eschew litigation.

STREET RECONSTRUCTION.

The board of public works will doubtless soon get right, on the question of street paving. The only question that will really have to be settled in this connection is whether or not the paving of the streets out of the bond issue is "original construction" or "reconstruction."

In fact, no petition is necessary under the law for either original construction, or reconstruction, if two-thirds of both boards vote for it—except where the original construction is to be from brick, asphalt or other expensive material. When it is proposed to construct a new street of costly material, the law gives the property owners the absolute right to say whether it shall be done or not.

The greatest proof that the proposed paving in Paducah is to be "reconstruction," however, is the fact that the city is going to pay half the cost, and voted $150,000 bonds for the purpose. If it is original construction, as some of the officials profess to believe, then the city cannot pay any of the costs. The city has no right to pay out a nickel for original street construction and the $150,000 voted for the streets would have to be retained intact.

It is probable, however, that when the question comes up, it will have been made plain to the members of the various boards that all they have to do is to select the streets and order the paving done.

Alderman Durrett seems to have recovered from his predicament of not knowing whether to resign as alderman or as assistant at the city light plant. The administration, which is justly fond of Alderman Durrett, who is a pleasant fellow and one of our best aldermen, thinks he can hold both jobs. If he can Alderman Durrett may be congratulated, for there is always more incentive for a man to give his city the very best services when he is drawing a nice salary.

Alderman Durrett's position is correct when he says he was not elected to any office, for no such office exists as that of assistant at the light plant. He was merely employed by the Board of Public Works to act as engineer, or assistant, at the plant. Hence the law which prohibits a person's holding two positions at the same time does not apply. Just to set the administration right, however, it might be asked how about the law which prohibits any city official being interested directly or indirectly with any contract with the city? When Alderman Durrett takes a position in the light plant hasn't he virtually, if not actually, a contract with the city to do certain work for a stipulated amount couldn't he sue in the courts and get judgment on it if necessary.

JIM HOWARD MUST SERVE SENTENCE

Court of Appeals Today Affirmed His Case.

Was One of the Alleged Guebel Conspirators and Like Others Was Persecuted.

HAD A CHANCE TO ESCAPE

Frankfort, Ky., April 22.—The Jim Howard case from the Franklin circuit court was today affirmed by the court of appeals, giving the prisoner a sentence for life. This is another one of the political convictions resulting from the murder of Senator Guebel, who was killed three years ago at Frankfort.

Jim Howard surrendered, and there was never any real evidence against him, but he was convicted on perjured testimony and by juries always composed of Democrats. The last trial of the case resulted in a sentence for life, and it was appealed.

Howard has been in jail at Louisville for the past several months, and was only a day or two ago visited by his wife. Howard is a mountaineer, and could easily have escaped and never been tried for the crime had he desired.

An announcement that will prove of interest to the cultured people of Paducah, is that Dr. Burris A. Jenkins, of the Kentucky university, of Lexington, has been secured for his lecture on "Parsifal," in this city, on May 16.

Dr. Jenkins will give his lecture at the Y. M. C. A. building under the auspices of the Woman's committee of the association.

The lecture was recently given in Louisville, and received very high praise from the Louisville papers. Dr. Jenkins will need introduction in Paducah, since he has been here several times lectures, having delivered a course for the Y. M. C. A. last February, and counts among his enthusiastic admirers all who were fortunate enough to hear him.

IMPORTANT CASE

ILLINOIS SUPREME COURT DECIDES INSURANCE QUESTION.

Springfield, Ill., April 22.—In the case of the Supreme Lodge of the Knights and Ladies of Honor, the State Supreme court entered a decision to the effect that a husband cannot become the beneficiary of life insurance carried on the life of his wife if he has murdered her. The Knights and Ladies of Honor cemented the payment of a $1,000 insurance policy upon the life of Mrs. Elizabeth Menkhousen deceased, on the ground that her husband had been convicted of her murder. Menkhousen is now serving a life sentence in Joliet. The Supreme court holds that Menkhousen is barred from participation in the benefits of the policy, but that his children are entitled to the insurance.

Mr. Jim Treese, of Louisville, has returned to the city to live.

NOT EASY

SHOPMEN SUBJECT TO MANY DANGERS AT WORK.

"Did you ever consider the danger we railroad people are subjected to while working around the yards here and in the boiler making shops?" a machinist asked this morning as a news reporter stood watching several boiler makers at work taking bolts from a tank.

"Well, we sometimes are in as much danger as we would be with some one shooting at us with a pistol. These tank men while hammering away with their sledges driving chisels hammers through the heads of bolts, often strike the bolt too hard after it has been cut half through, and frequently the head will fly for several hundred yards, and when it strikes you, it certainly makes its presence felt. It was only a few days ago that a bolt head struck me in the leg and cut through my pants, underwear and went into my flesh. The wound was very painful and probably as serious as if inflicted by a small caliber pistol."

"Some time ago a silver from the head of a blacksmith's hammer flew off and embedded itself in the neck of a blacksmith across the shop. The young man came near dying from the wound, the silver going into the wind pipe, and all goes to show the danger the shopman is subject to daily and which you never think about while you stand and watch him work. He is particularly in danger of having his eye badly hurt or put out."

NO DECISION.

RAILROAD COMMISSION TO MEET AT MAYFIELD SOON.

The Kentucky Railroad Commission which met at Louisville with Commissioners O. C. McChord and M. D. Ferguson decided in regard to the question of a new depot for Mayfield that the commission meet at Mayfield in the early half of next week with a representative of the Illinois Central Railroad and settle finally the question at that time. The day of the meeting will be decided later.

The other questions considered were of no importance. Mr. Ferguson arrived in Paducah last evening.

Attorney John G. Miller went to Princeton today at noon on business.

HANDSOME FRONT

Wallerstein Brothers to Enlarge and Improve Their Building.

Wallerstein Brothers, the clothiers, who have been at Third and Broadway for many years and have one of the largest establishments of its kind in the city, have decided on important changes to be made at their building this spring. They have let a contract to Mr. Wm. Karnes for extensive and artistic improvements and an increase in space, and will spend probably $7,000 in the work.
The building is to be overhauled from top to bottom, and an artistic front of the finest material will be put in. It will extend around Third street and give the firm a mammoth front taking in the entire Broadway side of the building and a large part of the Third street side. The front will be of glass and other fine and attractive material, and nothing will be spared to make the building a credit to the city as well as its owners.
The business of the firm has so grown that the changes are necessary. The boys' department will be moved up stairs, owing to the demand for more space down stairs for the other departments.
It is expected to begin work on the changes June 1. The big Rieks building on Broadway between Third and Fourth, formerly occupied by the Scott Hardware company, will be used temporarily by the Messrs. Wallerstein while their own building is undergoing the changes. It is probable they will be able to move back into their own building about August 15, possibly sooner.

WOMAN'S CONFESSION

AFTER 25 YEARS.

"Confession makes the heart glad and it makes me glad to confess that I was wrong about coffee, for discontinuing coffee, and using Postum has made me feel like a new woman," so writes an Ohio lady.
"I drank coffee 25 years and at first did not notice its bad effects except that at times my heart troubled me but after awhile I became very nervous and could not sleep, my stomach and liver were in bad condition and my heart was giving me serious trouble. I became alarmed and consulted a physician who said, 'You have no organic disease of the heart.' I kept on drinking coffee getting worse all the time.
"I consulted one after another until four physicians were persistent in saying I had no disease of the heart; still I was not convinced. I was certain my heart was badly affected because I had frequent attacks, each one being more severe than the others. The terrible experience of those attacks is hard to describe—I would grow faint and fainter until I became so weak I could not speak above a whisper. The perspiration stood out all over me in great drops. I thought I was going to die, then in a little while I would feel very cold. These attacks would leave me weak for a few days afterwards. I began to think perhaps it was the coffee that was affecting me so gave up the use of it but found it hard to stop until I began using Postum.
"The result of the change from coffee to Postum was I gradually got better and better the old trouble leaving me until now I consider myself entirely well. After using it a year we much prefer it to coffee and the terrible heart attacks from which I used to suffer so have disappeared. I could never have imagined that coffee could work such ill and that Postum could correct it in so short a time.
"My son drank coffee twice a day for several years, suffered with severe pain and burning in the stomach and dyspepsia so bad he could eat nothing but dry toast for days at a time. He tried various remedies but nothing cured him. When I began using Postum he began to try it too, leaving off the coffee, and the result has been that he is completely cured.
"My brother in law was an inveterate coffee drinker, had such heart trouble he was often unfit for work two and three days at a time but when he was persuaded to use Postum and cut out the coffee altogether, he got well." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

The Cut-Rate Cigar.

The cut-rate cigar has become one of the abominations of New York. A man may walk the length of a showcase looking in vain for a plain ten-cent cigar. In half the shops this traditional smoke can not be found. He can find any number of "two for 17s," "three for 11s" and "six for 31s" but that good old ten-cent cigar of his father's and his own early manhood has vanished.—New York Letter.

Rheumatism

Is Not a Skin Disease.

Most people have an idea that rheumatism is contracted like a cold, that the damp, chilly air penetrates the muscles and joints and causes the terrible aches and pains, or that it is something like a skin disease to be rubbed away with liniment or drawn out with plasters; but Rheumatism originates in the blood and is caused by Urea, or Uric Acid, an irritating, corroding poison that settles in muscles, joints and nerves, producing inflammation and soreness and the sharp, cutting pains peculiar to this distressing disease.

Exposure to bad weather or sudden chilling of the body will hasten an attack of Rheumatism after the blood and system are in the right condition for it to develop, but have nothing to do with the real true causes of Rheumatism, which are internal and not external.

Liniments, plasters and rubbing will sometimes reduce the inflammation and swelling and ease the pain for a time, but fail to relieve permanently because they do not reach the seat of the trouble. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism because it attacks it in the blood, and the Uric Acid poison is neutralized, the sluggish circulation stimulated and quickened, and soon the system is purified and cleansed, the aching muscles and joints are relieved of all irritating matter and a lasting cure of this most painful disease is effected.

S. S. S. is a harmless vegetable remedy, unequalled as a blood purifier and an invigorating, pleasant tonic. Book on Rheumatism will be mailed free.

With a roar that was heard for miles the Mississippi river cut through Killbuckian neck in Davis Island a few nights ago, restored Davis Island to the Mississippi mainland and resumed its old channel through what for 40 years has been known as Lake Patmyri. Incidentally several valuable cotton plantations were ruined. The neck of land through which the river used to regain possession of its former channel is about 500 yards wide. Davis bend is 20 miles south of Vicksburg.

A DANDY FOR BURNS.

Dr. Bergin, Penn, Ill., writes: "I have used Ballard's Snow Liniment; always recommended it to my friends as I am confident there is no better made. 'It is a dandy for burns.' Those who live on farms are especially liable to many accidental cuts, burns, bruises, which heal rapidly when Ballard's Snow Liniment is applied. The "air car" of the I. O. road, has been sidetracked back of the Master Mechanic's office and engineers and firemen are being examined on air and its application.

Experts in handling air are here with the car and are conducting the examinations. Ordinarily the new engineers who are promoted from the position of firemen, are sent to Chicago to be examined, but there are several here who had not taken the examinations and the car being on a southern tour was brought here. Incidentally the car is being repaired here by local craftsmen.

HOT ELECTION.

CAIRO GOES FOR MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP.

Cairo, Ill., April 22—While only councilmen were elected in Cairo yet as much interest was manifested as at any previous election for years. The real interest in the contest was municipal ownership and an endorsement of Mayor Winter's policy.

The battle was hard-fought, but in every ward where a contest was made the municipal ownership advocates carried the day, making a clean sweep in one case, retiring a councilman who had held the office for many years.

"Indeed!" I laughed, sounding my whistle. Then, soberly enough, for I was more than a little struck by the oddity of his behavior and thought him as well worth investigation as the house in which he showed such an interest. "You shouldn't let that count. Come and see what's up in the house you are so ready to call yours."

But he only drew farther into the shade.

"I have no business over there," he objected. "Veronica and I have never been on good terms. I was not even invited to her wedding, though I live within a stone's throw of the door. No; I have done my duty in calling attention to that light, and whether it's the bullseye of a burglar—perhaps you don't know that there are rare treasures on the bookshelves of the great library—or whether it's the fantastic illumination which frightens foot folks and some foot dogs, I'm done with it and done with you, too, for tonight."

As he said this he mounted to his door and disappeared under the vines, leaving like a shadow over the front.

The Moore house

of the house. In another moment the rich peal of an organ sounded from within, followed by the prolonged howling of fiddle, who, either from it too keen appreciation of his master's music or in utter disapproval of it—no one, I believe, has ever been able to make out which—was accustomed to add this undesirable accompaniment to every strain from the old man's hand. The playing did not cease because of these outrageous discords. On the contrary, it increased in force and volume, causing fiddle's expression of pain or pleasure to increase also. The result can be imagined. As I listened to the intolerable howls of the dog cutting clear through the exquisite harmonies of his master I wondered if the shadows cast by the frowning structure of the great Moore house were alone to blame for Uncle David's lack of neighbors.

Meanwhile Hilbard, who was the first to hear my signal, came running down the block. As he joined me the light, or what we chose to call a light, appeared in the window toward which my attention had been directed.

"Some one's in the Moore house?" I declared, in no matter of fact tones as I could command.

Hilbard is a big fellow, the biggest fellow on the force, and so far as my own experience with him had gone, as solid and imperturbable as the best of us. But after a quick glance at the towering walls of the lonely building he showed decided embarrassment and seemed in no haste to cross the street.

With diffidence I concealed my

"Come," I cried, stepping down from the curb, "let's go over and investigate. The property is valuable, the furnishings are handsome, and there is no end of costly books on the library shelves. You have matches and a revolver."

He nodded, quietly showing me first the one, then the other; then, with a sheepish air which he endeavored to carry off with a laugh, he cried:

"Have you seen for 'em? If so, I'm quite willing to part with 'em for a half hour."

I was more than amazed at this evidence of weakness in one I had always considered as tough and imperturbable as flint rock. Thrusting back the hand with which he had half drawn into view the weapon I had mentioned, I put on my sternest air and led the way across the street. As I did so, I tossed back the words:

"We may come upon a gang. You do not wish me to face some half dozen men alone?"

"You won't find any half dozen men there," was his muttered reply. Nevertheless he followed me, though with less spirit than I liked, considering that my own manner was in a measure assumed and that I was not without sympathy—well, let me say, for a dog who preferred howling a dismal accompaniment to his master's music to keeping open watch over a neighborhood dominated by the unalloyed structure I now proposed to enter.

At the first touch the door yielded. It was not even latched.

"So!" thought I. "This is no fool's job; some one is in the house."

I had provided myself with an ordinary pocket lantern, and when I had convinced Hilbard that I fully meant to enter the house and discover for myself who had taken advantage of the popular prejudice against it to make a secret refuge or rendezvous of its decayed old rooms, I took out this lantern and held it in readiness.

"We may strike a hornet's nest," I explained to Hilbard, whose feet seemed very heavy even for a man of his size. "But I'm going in and so are you. Only, let me suggest first that we take off our shoes. We can hide them in these bushes."

"I always catch cold when I walk barefooted," mumbled my brave companion; but receiving no reply, he drew off his shoes and dropped them beside mine in the cluster of stark bushes which figure so prominently in the newspaper illustrations that have lately appeared. Then he took out his revolver, and, cocking it, stood waiting, while I gave a cautious push to the door.

Darkness! Silence!

Rather had I confronted a light and heard some noise, even if it had been the ominous click to which we are so well accustomed. Hilbard seemed to share my feelings, though from an entirely different cause.

"Pistols and lanterns are no good here," he grumbled. "What we want at this blessed minute is a priest with a sprinkling of holy water; and I for one!"

He was actually sliding off.

With a smothered oath I drew him back.

"See here!" I cried, "you're not a babe in arms. Come on or— Well, what now?"

He had clinched my arm and was pointing to the door which was slowly swinging to behind us.

"Notice that," he whispered. "No key in the lock! Men use keys, but—"

My patience could stand no more. With a shudder I rid myself of his clutch, muttering:

"There, go! You're too much of a fool for me. I'm in for it alone." And in proof of my determination I turned the slide of the lantern and dashed the light through the house.

The effect was ghastly; but while the fellow at my side breathed hard, he did not take advantage of my words to make his escape, as I half expected him to. The truth is, I was startled myself, but I was able to hide the fact and to whisper back to him fiercely:

"Hush!"

I had just heard something.

For a moment we stood breathless, but as the sound was not repeated I concluded that it was the creaking of that faraway shutter. Certainly there was nothing moving near us.

"Shall we go upstairs?" whispered Hilbard.

"Not till we have made sure that all is right down here."

A door stood slightly ajar on our left.

Pushing it open, we looked in. A well furnished parlor was before us.

"Here's where the wedding took place," remarked Hilbard, straining his head over my shoulder.

There were signs of this wedding on every side. Walls and ceilings had been hung with garlands, and these still clung to the mantelpiece and over and around the various doorways. The clock occupying the center of the mantelpiece alone gave evidence of life. It had been wound for the wedding and had not yet run down. Its tick-tick came faint enough, however, through the darkness, as if it, too, had lost heart and would soon lapse into the deadly quiet of its ghostly surroundings.

"It's—it's funeral-like!" chattered Hilbard.

He was right; I felt as if I were shutting the lid of a coffin when I finally closed the door.

Our next steps took us into the rear, where we found little to detain us, and then, with a certain dread fully justified by the event, we made for the door defined by the two Corinthian columns.

It was ajar like the rest, and, call me coward or call me fool—I have called Hilbard both, you will remember—I found that it cost me an effort to lay my hand on its mahogany panels.

Danger, if danger there was, lurked here, and while I had never known myself to quail before any ordinary antagonist, I, like others of my kind, have no especial fondness for unseen and mysterious perils.

Hilbard, who up to this point had followed me almost too closely, now acceded me all the room that was necessary. It was with a sense of entering alone upon the scene that I finally thrust wide the door and crossed the threshold of this redoubtable room where, but two short weeks before, a fresh victim had been added to the list of those who had by some unheard of, unimaginable means found their death within its recesses.

My first glance showed me little save the ponderous outlines of an old settle, which jutted from the corner of the fireplace half way out into the room. As it was seemingly from this seat that the men, who at various times had been found lying here, had fallen to their doom, a thrill passed over me as I noted its unwieldy bulk and the deep shadow it threw on the ancient and disheveled hearthstone.

To escape the ghastly memories it evoked and also to satisfy myself that the room was really as empty as it seemed, I took another step forward. This caused the light from the lantern I carried to spread beyond the point on which it had hitherto been so effectively concentrated, but the result was to emphasize rather than detract from the extreme desolation of the great room. The settle was a fixture, as I afterward found, and was almost the only article of furniture to be seen on the wide expanse of uncarpeted floor. There was a table or two in hiding somewhere amid the shadows at the other end from where I stood, and possibly some kind of stool or settee, but the general impression made upon me was that of a completely dismantled place given over to moth and rust.

The elegance of the heavily stuccoed ceiling, admitted to be one of the finest specimens of its kind in Washington, as well as the richness of the carvings ornamenting the mantel of fluted marble rising above the accursed hearthstone, only served to make more evident the extreme neglect into which the rest of the room had sunk. Being anything but anxious to subject myself further to its unhappy influence, and quite convinced that the place was indeed as empty as it looked, I turned to leave when my eyes fell upon something so unexpected and so extraordinary, seen as it was under the influence of the dead bride.

The dead bride

ence of the old tragedies with which my mind was necessarily full, that I paused, balked in my advance and well nigh uncertain whether I looked upon a real thing or on some strange and terrible fantasy of my aroused imagination.

A form lay before me, outstretched on that portion of the floor which had hitherto been hidden from me by the half open door—a woman's form, which even in that first casual look impressed itself upon me as one of aerial delicacy and extreme refinement; and this form lay as only the dead lie: the dead! And I had been looking at the hearthstone for just such a picture! No, not just such a picture, for this woman lay face uppermost, and, on the floor beside her was blood—

A hand had plucked my sleeve. It was Hilbard's. Startled by its immobility and silence, he had stepped in with quaking members, expecting he hardly knew what. But no sooner did his eyes fall on the prostrate form which held me spellbound than an unforeseen change took place in him. What had unnerved me, restored him to full self possession. Death in this shape was familiar to him. He had no fear of blood. He did not show surprise at encountering it, but only at the effect it appeared to produce on me.

"Shot!" was his incoherent comment as he bent over the prostrate body. "Shot through the heart! She must have died before she fell."

Shot!

That was a new experience for this room. No wound had ever before disfigured those who had fallen here, nor had any of the previous victims been found lying on any other spot than the one over which that huge stool kept guard. As these thoughts crossed my mind I instinctively glanced again toward the fireplace for what I almost refused to believe lay outstretched at my feet. When nothing more appeared there than that old seat of sinister memory, I experienced a thrill which poorly prepared me for the cry which I now heard raised by Hilbard.

"Look here! What do you make of this?"

He was pointing to what, upon closer inspection, proved to be a strip of white satin ribbon running from one of the delicate wrists of the girl before us to the handle of a pistol which had fallen not far away from her side. "It looks as if the pistol was attached to her. That is something new in my experience. What do you think it means?"

Alas, there was but one thing it could mean. The shot to which she had succumbed had been delivered by herself. This fair and delicate creature was a suicide.

But suicide in this place! How could we account for that? Had the story of this room's ill acquired fame acted hypocritically on her, or had she stumbled upon the open door in front and been glad of any refuge where her misery might find a solitary termination? Closely scanning her upturned face, I sought an answer to this question, and while thus seeking received a fresh shock which I did not hesitate to communicate to my now none too sensitive companion.

"Look at these features," I cried. "I seem to know them. Do you?"

He groveled out a dissent, but stooped at my bidding and gave the pitiful young face a prolonged stare. When he looked up again it was with a puzzled contraction of his eyebrows.

"I've certainly seen it somewhere," he hesitatingly admitted, edging slowly away toward the door. "Perhaps in the papers. Isn't she like—"

"Like?" I interrupted. "It is Veronica Moore herself, the owner of this house and she who was married here two weeks since to Mr. Jeffrey. Evidently her reason was unseated by the tragedy which threw so deep a gloom over her wedding."

Having sent the too willing Hilbard to notify headquarters, I was on the point of making a memorandum of such details as seemed important, when my lantern suddenly went out, leaving me in total darkness.

CHAPTER III.

NOT for an instant did I doubt the correctness of this identification. All the pictures I had seen of this well known society belle had been marked by an individuality of expression which fixed her face in the memory and which I now saw repeated in the lifeless features before me.

Having sent the too willing Hilbard to notify headquarters, I was on the point of making a memorandum of such details as seemed important, when my lantern suddenly went out, leaving me in total darkness.

SOME HAS BEENS

WHERE BASEBALL STARS OF OTHER YEARS ARE FOUND.

"It's pretty hard to find a minor league nowadays," says Fred Pfeffer, a well known baseball man, "without finding a lot of ex-major leaguers in it—men who are in a new row, or men who had a trial in the fast company, and then fell out, never to return. It's rather pathetic, to listen to one of these fellows as he tells how he was in the big league getting $500 a month, when you know the poor devil is now getting $90 and glad to gather it regularly.

"I was looking through a baseball guide the other day, and here's a few of the names I found, in leagues not as high as the Eastern or American Association, which pay decent money, or the California, which is very liberal, but little leagues which cannot give much money.

"Southern League—Breitenstein, once the star of the St. Louis pitching staff Red Ebert, another veteran of fame; Frank Killen, also an old time wonder; Zeke Wilson, long with Cleveland; Stockdale who was with Washington, Hughey, with Chicago long ago; Harry Vaughan, so many years with Louisville; Law Whistler and Perry Wheridon, old time first basemen; good old Cupid Childs, Tom Parrott, Sam Duigan, Charley Miller and Bob Gilke, all big league stars of the past.

"New England League—Billy Hamilton, the fastest player who ever flashed the spikes along the base line; Jack Carney, Fred Lake, Merritt, who caught for Anson; Butser Barrell, Fred Klobedanz, Tommy Dowd, now all to the bad as compared with what he used to be.

"Connecticut League—Jim O'Rourke, Roger Conner; Tuck Turner, who was such a hitter ten years ago.

"New York State League—Howard Earle, 'Count' Campan.

"Cotton States League—Billy Karle, the globe trotter.

"Northern League—Hoffmeister, once a Pittsburgh favorite.

"And there are others but why stir up the dry bones any more?"

A GREAT RACE.

REPORT OF THE TIME MADE BY THE DUKE OF ORLEANS.

MAY KEEP BOTH

Possible Alderman Durrett Will Not Resign.

Mayor Yeiser Thinks That He Can Hold Both Jobs.

Alderman Lucian Durrett, who was a short time ago elected or appointed to the position of assistant superintendent of the city electric light plant, may retain both his position in the aldermanic board and at the city power house.

Alderman Durrett states that he is simply engineer at the city power house and that the city has created no office for him. He is working every night at the big engine and expressed his inclination to continue and from what can be learned at the city hall, he will not have to resign his position in the Aldermanic board in order to remain engineer at the power house.

Mayor Yeiser was asked this morning what he thought Mr. Durrett would do. Mayor Yeiser stated he had not heard Mr. Durrett say anything about his plans, but it was his opinion that Mr. Durrett did not have the right to resign his position as an alderman and could act as engineer at the city light plant and serve the city on the executive board also.

It is understood that this matter is being considered by Mr. Durrett who will first definitely decide if he has to resign as an alderman, and if he does not will retain both positions.
